

to bring the best in pre-hospital care to the residents.

Emergency Medical Services (EMS) are provided by the Madison Fire Department to residents within the city and in nearby subdivisions. EMS training began in 1980 for some firefighters, as well as for some members of the Madison Police Department. This EMS service offered by the department responds to about 80 percent of yearly emergency medical calls. Under a contractual agreement with American Medical Response Ambulance, Inc., (AMR), Madison firefighters act as first responders for AMR to all medical emergencies.

The Madison Volunteer Firefighter's Association was formed in 1989 to encourage volunteer efforts, as well as to support the fire department. The organization operates in close harmony with, but is independent of, the Fire Department administration. This organization currently sponsors two to four athletic teams a year, provides a scholarship program open to all children of department members, and provides funds for equipment, such as their 1995 contribution of $15,000 for one-half the purchase price of a new rescue truck (Rescue 1). The association also provides cash contributions to many activities, among them the Mississippi Burn Camp for Children and Horses for Handicapped.

A very active Firefighter's Auxiliary supports the Madison Fire Department by providing food and beverages at major emergencies, assisting during severe weather emergencies, and providing support for all fund-raising activities. The Auxiliary also independently raises funds for charitable organizations, primarily the Mississippi Memorial Firefighter's Burn Center in Greenville, Mississippi. The work of the Auxiliary was recognized at the annual Firefighter's Conference in June 1997 when it received five awards for that year's activities.

MADISON POLICE DEPARTMENT

Entrance to the Madison Justice Complex.

Madison ranked as Mississippi's Safest City

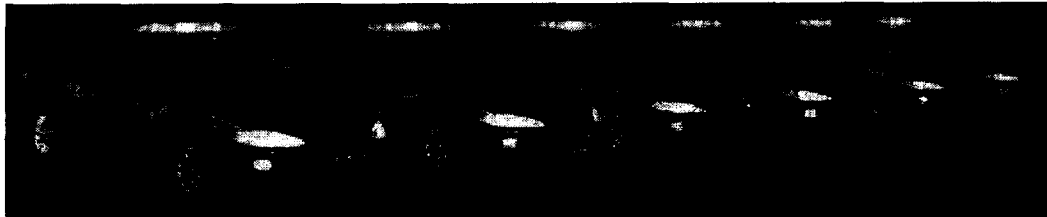

It is the mission of the Madison Police Department to be a leader in promoting professionalism and providing courteous enhanced service from its law enforcement officers to the citizens of Madison and visitors to the City by:

- Enhancing the quality of public service provided to the citizens of Madison by providing and encouraging proactive training and educational programs for law enforcement
- Striving to create and endorse positive effects on law enforcement's ability to reduce both crime and the fear of crime in the City of Madison.
- Encouraging the mutual sharing of resources and ideas among officers of the Madison Police Department and citizens by reinforcing open lines of communication and being the vanguard for the future of professional law enforcement within the City of Madison.
- Forging a partnership between law enforcement and the citizens we serve to enhance the quality of life within the community.

Residents of the City of Madison enjoy one of the lowest crime rates in the nation, thanks in large part to the professional and efficient Madison Police Department. The Madison Police Department is dedicated to preventing crime, to strictly enforcing the law, as well as to providing courteous service to the citizens of Madison and to visitors. An example of devotion to excellence is the department's recent achievement of national accreditation from the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement (CALEA). Accreditation requires 439 criteria must be met, and the process takes approximately two and a half years to complete. There currently is only one other police department in the state of Mississippi that has achieved CALEA accreditation.

There are 41 sworn officers on staff, supported by 15 civilian personnel. The department is divided into four major divisions -- Administrative, Patrol, Investigative, and Support Services.

The city is divided into six beats/zones for coverage by marked patrol units. However, the department utilizes three to six flexible zones, which have been designed for reconfiguration within minutes when required to respond to special events or emergency situations. In an effort to extend protection to Madison's schools, the department is using a dedicated radio frequency to link every school office with the dispatcher at police headquarters.

The Madison Police Department offers several crime prevention programs to residents. These include home and business safety/security surveys, neighborhood watch programs and house watches while residents are out of town for extended periods of time. The police department was also the founding sponsor of the Madison County "Triad" program for senior citizens. Triad is a partnership of law enforcement agencies and retired and senior citizens designed to address crime issues specifically affecting older citizens.

MADISON CONTINUING EDUCATION

Madison offers excellent educational facilities at the elementary, junior high and senior high school levels. Madison's public and private schools continue to perform above the national average. All of Madison's public schools are members of the Madison County School District.

- Madison Central High School was named by Redbook magazine as one of the best high schools in the United States.
- Madison's Rosa Scott Middle School ranked highest in the state in achievement test scores for grades 7 and 8.
- Madison Avenue Elementary School has ranked among the top five Mississippi schools in testing and numbers two in the tri-county area for the past three years.
- Madison Station Elementary School is a K-5 school that engages students through an exciting arts integrated curriculum. In 1999-2000, Madison Station Elementary ranked as one of the top five elementary schools in the Jackson Metro area in test scores.
- Madison Ridgeland Academy students consistently score well above the national average on achievement tests, ACT scores and the SAT.
- St. Joseph's High School has recently relocated to Madison. The addition of this educational facility will further enhance the school systems of Madison.

If you prefer to explore new subjects on your own, Madison's Rebecca Baine Rigby Library is an excellent place to start.

The library's extensive collection of fiction and reference books tops twenty thousand volumes. The library also features a music collection on compact disc, video tapes, and audio books, and has recently added Internet access to its list of services - all the materials you need to keep your days filled and your mind occupied.
